AREAS OF RESEARCH INTEREST:

The central purposes of my work have been: 1) to reconstruct the stages of Marx’s critique of capitalism in light of the most recent textual acquisitions of MEGA²; 2) to provide a new critical comparison between Marx and 19th and 20th century’s Marxisms; 3) to highlight the contemporary relevance of Marx for pressing current issues.

Among my other research interests there are: Socialist thought, alternatives to capitalism, history of the labour movement, history of ideas, social history, post-Hegelian philosophy, theories of alienation, alternative socio-economic systems, theory of democracy, and contemporary European politics - all topics on which I have edited volumes and anthologies, or I have published journal articles, chapters in books and journalistic pieces.

PUBLICATIONS:

Summary:

I have published extensively in more than 20 languages (including translations). My writings comprise:

(A) four monographs, originally published in Italian or English. They have been translated into 11 languages and printed in more than 35 editions (9 under contract and forthcoming). Translations in other six languages are forthcoming in 2020.

(B) four booklets appeared in five languages, for a total of 9 editions, and with one more language forthcoming in 2020.

(C) twelve edited books, nine of which have been already published and three are forthcoming in 2020. Originally appeared in English or Italian, they have been translated into more than ten languages and printed in more than 25 editions (9 under contract and forthcoming). Translations in two more languages are forthcoming in 2020.

(D) More than 40 separate refereed journal articles and chapters in books that have appeared as a total of more than 180 publications (not counting a number of short articles, book reviews, journalism and interviews).

[The list of publication has been ordered by placing the English version first, followed by the translations in other languages underneath. Those writings which have not been published into English have been ordered in the language in which they appeared first. Several titles have been indicated in transliterated form].

(C) Other Academic Standing:

National Scientific Qualification (Abilitazione Scientifica Nazionale), Italy, 2013 – 2017, as Associate Professor in History of Political Thought – Political Science.

National Scientific Qualification (Abilitazione Scientifica Nazionale), Italy, 2013 – 2017, as Associate Professor in Political Philosophy – Philosophy.

Note: Italy has introduced a unique system of nation-wide qualification for appointing Professors and Associate Professors, the Abilitazione Scientifica Nazionale. Similar in purpose to the Habilitation in some other European countries, the process involves evaluation of research and publications by a national committee within each academic field for permanent appointment or subsequent promotion. The Abilitazione Scientifica Nazionale confers the qualification required for a permanent academic position, but not an actual position.
